Santa Fe Springs Applies for Grant Funds as the Initial Step of Grade Separation Project

The crossing at Norwalk and Los Nietos is very busy and has significant safety concerns; it is among the top two crossings in incidents.

By Brian Hews

The Santa Fe Springs City Council, at its September 3 meeting, approved an application for grant funds from the U.S. DOT’s Railroad Crossing Elimination Grant Program (RCE) for the Norwalk Boulevard – Los Nietos Road Grade Separation Project.

The City Council also appropriated $330,000 to cover the City’s “local match” portion from its UUT fund.

The monies will fund the engineering/scope of work (SOW). The SOW outlines the tasks, deliverables, and responsibilities of the entire Grade Separation Project.

It is a detailed blueprint outlining the project, who will do the work, and the expected timelines and outcomes.

The estimated cost for the SOW is $3.3 million.

The existing at-grade railroad crossing at Norwalk and Los Nietos is very busy in terms of vehicular traffic and rail traffic. The crossing has significant safety concerns, ranking among the top two crossings with the highest number of safety incidents in the city.

A 2016 Caltrans study showed the average daily traffic volume was 12,000 cars, and 22 percent was truck traffic. Nearly five trains per hour (109) cross daily; 50 of those are passenger railroad

Federal officials gave final approval to environmental review documents for Los Angeles’ future Southeast Gateway Line, opening up funding for a massive extension of the local transit system meant to serve residents of the county who have traditionally had fewer rail options.

“This line is going to serve one of the regions that has historically been left behind whenever we’ve expanded our Metro system,” County Supervisor and Metro Board Chair Janice Hahn said. Hahn represents the region that will be served by the line.

“We made it clear to our federal partners that these communities needed and deserved this critical investment, and they’ve delivered. Now let’s get to work,” she added.

Utility work on the project is expected to begin by the end of this year. When completed, the full 19-mile Southeast Gateway Line will serve 1.4 million residents between Union Station in Downtown LA

Bill Will Convert Metropolitan Hospital to Mental Health Treatment and Housing

The bill will allow the leasing of seven buildings to a nonprofit or local government for treatment of behavioral health needs.

LCCN Staff Report

Last week, on a bi-partisan 39-0 vote, the California Legislature approved a measure authored by Senator Bob Archuleta (D-Pico Rivera) and championed by Los Angeles County Supervisor Janice Hahn to allow LA County to develop a mental health community on the Metropolitan State Hospital campus to treat and house people with mental illness.

“This is a significant first step to allow state property in LA County to be redeveloped and repurposed to address two of the most pressing issues we face – mental illness and homelessness,” said Senator Bob Archuleta. “As we seek the Governor’s signature, it is clear that collaboration between the State, local governments and community stakeholders remain vital if we are to succeed in addressing our homeless and mental health crisis.”

“We are battling a mental health crisis and we desperately need places where we can treat and house people who are struggling,” said Supervisor Janice Hahn. “With just a small corner of this State property we can provide care and support for hundreds of people at a time. The need is overwhelming and we have no time to waste. I urge the Governor to sign the bill as soon as it gets to his desk, and I look forward to working with our State partners to get these mental health facilities up and running.”

SB 1336 authorizes the director of the Department of General Services (DGS) to lease seven buildings that are currently unused at Metropolitan State Hospital to a nonprofit or local government for the purposes of providing housing and/or treatment to people with behavioral health needs. Chubby Cattle 'Yakiniku' Coming to Cerritos' 183rd Plaza YAKINIKU is a Japanese term that means “grilled meat.” Chubby Cattle serves all-you-can-eat grilled wagyu beef at three pricing tiers ranging from $55 to $85.

By Brian Hews

A yakiniku chain called Chubby Cattle will open in the 183rd Plaza in Spring 2025, taking over the former Peking Wok building.

Yakiniku is a Japanese term that means “grilled meat.” It refers to a style of cooking where bite-sized pieces of meat, usually beef, but also pork, chicken, and sometimes seafood, are grilled over a direct flame, typically on a tabletop grill.

Yakiniku is a social dining experience, where people gather around the grill, cooking and eating together, making it a popular choice for groups of friends and families.

The meat is often marinated or seasoned before grilling and is commonly served with dipping sauces, rice, and side dishes such as kimchi, vegetables, and pickles.

Chubby Cattle serves all-you-can-eat grilled wagyu beef at three pricing tiers ranging from $55 to $85.

There are A5 Miyazaki short ribs and more in limited quantities at the top-most tier.

The meat extravaganza lists a dozen cuts of wagyu, like zabuton, short rib, rib-eye, prime-grade Angus top blade, and finger meat.

The array of dishes extends to dozens of other meats, seafood, and even sushi and dumplings.

Chubby Cattle has expanded across the West Coast with upscale wagyu-oriented offerings at a reasonable price and opened a location in Little Tokyo on August 23 at 356 East Second Street.

Prices are slightly discounted for those two who pay the $20 annual membership fee that applies to all 20 Chubby Cattle outlets — like Costco — offering birthday rewards and an extra two ounces of A5 strip loin for each visit.

ABCUSD Board President Sophia Tse Statement on Georgia Shooting

It is with a heavy heart that I share this message with you. We witnessed another tragic school shooting on Wednesday, this time impacting the community of Winder, Georgia. These acts of violence may cause concern and anxiety for our students and staff, and I want to reassure everyone that help is available.

Our schools have dedicated mental health professionals ready to support those in need. We also offer a free mental health referral service through Care Solace for any student, family member, or staff needing extra support.

The safety of our students and staff remains our top priority. Thanks to Measure BB, we have added to our security infrastructure by increasing the number of security cameras on our campuses, implementing enhanced entry protocols to our schools, and will soon introduce new access control measures. These efforts, combined with our strong relationship with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department and the cities we serve, provide a solid approach to ensuring our schools remain safe environments for learning.

I want to remind our students, families, and staff that if you "hear something," you should "say something." If you hear about a potential threat, please contact the Sheriff's Department right away. If students hear about a threat while at school, they should tell a teacher or other staff member. Now, more than ever, we need to work together to keep our schools safe. Finally, please join me in keeping the victims and their families from Winder, Georgia in our thoughts and prayers.

Sincerely, Sophia Tse

Father of Georgia School Shooter Arrested

The father of the Georgia suspect has been arrested and charged with murder, involuntary manslaughter and cruelty to children, authorities said.

The arrest came after new details emerged about the boy's interest in previous massacres, an investigation into online threats, and his father's ownership of several guns — including a military-style rifle like the one used in the attack.

Colin Gray, the father of the 14-year-old accused of killing two teachers and two students at his Georgia high school, was arrested and charged with second-degree murder on Thursday in connection with the state's deadliest school shooting, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said.

In addition to two counts of second-degree murder, Mr. Gray, 54, was also charged with four counts of involuntary manslaughter and eight counts of cruelty to children, according to a statement.

The arrest came after new details emerged on Thursday about the teenage suspect's interest in previous massacres and his father's ownership of several guns, including a military-style rifle like the one used in the attack.

Two family members told The New York Times that the teen, who has been charged with four counts of felony murder, had a troubled home life. "My grandson did what he did because of the environment that he lived in," said his grandfather, Charles Polhamus. An aunt, Annie Brown, texted: "The adults in his life let him down."

Trump's Project 2025 Immigration Plans

Raids, Tax-Payer Funded Giant Detention Camps, Mass Deportations

In interviews with The New York Times, Trump's campaign referred questions for its article to Stephen Miller, an architect of Mr. Trump's first-term immigration policies, including child separation.

Former President Donald J. Trump is planning an extreme expansion on immigration if he returns, including rounding up undocumented people already in the United States and detaining them in sprawling camps while they wait to be expelled.

Scour and Deport

Trump plans to scour the country for unauthorized immigrants and deport people by the millions per year.

Ban Muslims

Trump wants to revive his first-term border policies, including banning entry by people from certain Muslim-majority nations.

Halt Due Process

To help speed mass deportations, Trump will allow removal that does not require due process hearings.

Detention Camps

To ease the strain on ICE detention facilities, Trump wants to build huge camps to detain people.

Go Around Congress

And Trump would redirect money in the military budget, as he did in his first term to spend more on a border wall, to get around Congress.

Trump's plans amount to an assault on immigration on a scale unseen in modern American history. Millions of undocumented immigrants would be barred from the country or uprooted from it years or even decades after settling here.

Cancel Work Visas

In a second Trump presidency, the visas of foreign students who participated in anti-Israel or pro-Palestinian protests would be canceled.

People who were granted temporary protected status because they are from certain countries deemed unsafe, allowing them to lawfully live and work in the United States, would have that status revoked.

End Birthright Citizenship

And Trump would try to end birthright citizenship for babies born in the United States to undocumented parents.

Bring Back Mr. Evil

In interviews with The New York Times, Trump's campaign referred questions for this article to Stephen Miller, an architect of Trump's first-term immigration policies who remains close to him and is expected to serve in a senior role in a second administration.

And while acknowledging that lawsuits would arise to challenge nearly every one of them, he portrayed the Trump team's daunting array of tactics as a "blitz" designed to overwhelm immigrant-rights lawyers.

In a second term, Miller said, Mr. Trump plans to install a team that will not restrain him.

Trump Owns SCOTUS

Since much of Trump's first-term immigration crackdown was tied up in the courts, the legal environment has tilted in his favor: His four years of judicial appointments left behind federal appellate courts and a Supreme Court that are far more conservative than the courts that heard challenges to his first-term policies.

End DACA

The fight over Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals provides an illustration.

DACA is an Obama-era program that shields from deportation and grants work permits to people who were brought unlawfully to the United States as children. Trump tried to end it, but the Supreme Court blocked him on procedural grounds in June 2020.

Mr. Miller said Mr. Trump would try again to end DACA. And the 5-4 majority of the Supreme Court that blocked the last attempt no longer exists.

Poisoning the Blood

As he has campaigned for the party's third straight presidential nomination, his anti-immigrant tone has only grown harsher. In a recent interview with a right-wing website, Trump claimed without evidence that foreign leaders were deliberately emptying their "insane asylums" to send the patients across America's southern border as migrants. He said migrants were "poisoning the blood of our country."

Trump's immigration plan is to pick up where he left off and then go much farther. He would not only revive some of the policies that were criticized as draconian during his presidency, many of which the Biden White House ended, but also expand and toughen them.

Keep People Out

One example centers on expanding first-term policies aimed at keeping people out of the country. Trump plans to suspend the nation's refugee program and once again categorically bar visitors from troubled countries, reinstating a version of his ban on travel from several mostly Muslim-majority countries, which President Biden called discriminatory and ended on his first day in office.

Bring on the Bully

Mr. Trump would also use coercive diplomacy to induce other nations to help, including by making cooperation a condition of any other bilateral engagement, Mr. Miller said.

Use the Flu to Stop Immigrants

At the same time, Miller said, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention would invoke the public health emergency powers law known as Title 42 to again refuse to hear any asylum claims by people arriving at the southern border.

The Trump administration had internally discussed that idea early in Trump's term, but some cabinet secretaries pushed back, arguing that there was no public health emergency that would legally justify it. The administration ultimately implemented it during the coronavirus pandemic.

Saying the idea has since gained acceptance in practice — Mr. Biden initially kept the policy — Mr. Miller said Mr. Trump would invoke Title 42, citing "severe strains of the flu, tuberculosis, scabies, other respiratory illnesses like R.S.V. and so on, or just a general issue of mass migration being a public health threat and conveying a variety of communicable diseases."

Not Denied Separating Families

Trump and his aides have not yet said whether they would re-enact one of the most contentious deterrents to unauthorized immigration that he pursued as president: separating children from their parents, which led to trauma among migrants and difficulties in reuniting families.

When pressed, Trump has not ruled out reviving the policy.

Hire Guy Who Separated Families

Soon after Trump announced his 2024 campaign for president last November, he met with Tom Homan, who ran ICE for the first year and a half of the Trump administration and was an early proponent of separating families to deter migrants.

In an interview, Mr. Homan recalled that in that meeting, he "agreed to come back" in a second term and would "help to organize and run the largest deportation operation this country's ever seen."

Chaos is Good

Trump advisers' vision of abrupt mass deportations would be a recipe for social and economic turmoil, disrupting the housing market and major industries including agriculture and the service sector. Mr. Miller cast such disruption in a favorable light.

"Mass deportation will be a labor-market disruption celebrated by American workers, who will now be offered higher wages with better benefits to fill these jobs," he said.

Expedite Removal

One planned step to overcome the legal and logistical hurdles would be to significantly expand fast-track deportations known as "expedited removal."

It denies undocumented immigrants hearings and the opportunity to file appeals, which can take months or years — especially when people are not in custody.

Workplace Raids Arresting Everyone

More broadly, Mr. Miller said a new Trump administration would shift from the ICE practice of arresting specific people to carrying out workplace raids and other sweeps in public places aimed at arresting scores of unauthorized immigrants at once.

Miller said the Trump team would bring in "the right kinds of attorneys and the right kinds of policy thinkers" to speed up the process.

Detention Facilities

And because of the magnitude of arrests and deportations being contemplated, they plan to build "vast holding facilities that would function as staging centers" for immigrants as their cases progress and they wait to be flown to other countries.

Mr. Miller said the new camps would likely be built "on open land in Texas near the border." He said the military would construct them under the authority and control of Homeland Security.

Such camps could also enable the government to speed up the pace of deportations of undocumented people who have lived in the United States for years and so are not subject to fast-track removal.

The use of these camps, Mr. Miller said, would likely be focused more on single adults because the government cannot indefinitely hold children under a longstanding court order known as the Flores settlement. So any families brought to the facilities would have to be moved in and out more quickly, he said.

Try to Hold Children Again

The Trump administration tried to overturn the Flores settlement, but the Supreme Court did not resolve the matter before Trump's term ended. Mr. Miller said the Trump team would try again.

Violate Posse Comitatus

To increase the number of agents available for ICE sweeps, Mr. Miller said, officials from other federal law enforcement agencies would be temporarily reassigned, and state National Guard troops and local police officers, at least from willing Republican-led states, would be deputized for immigration control efforts.

Insurrection...Again

While a law known as the Posse Comitatus Act generally forbids the use of the armed forces for law enforcement purposes, another law called the Insurrection Act creates an exception. Trump would invoke the Insurrection Act at the border, enabling the use of federal troops to apprehend migrants, Mr. Miller said.

"Bottom line," he said, "President Trump will do whatever it takes."

mission of Youth For Earth has been incredibly inspiring, Cho said. "I am deeply moved by the sight of our members raising their fists and the resonating chants like, 'Our Planet, Our Duty,' capturing our youthful spirit."

Cho's parents immigrated from Korea and made their livelihood in the "fast fashion" industry. One of their current projects is the Fashion For Future Campaign. This initiative seeks to mobilize youth to advocate for human rights within the fashion industry and promote sustainable fashion choices, all while understanding the challenges faced by those in the industry due to economic necessity.

Youth for Earth hosts "Fashion Fridays" awareness blogs as part of the campaign and is organizing their Fashion For Future Conference on Sept. 14. She is also hosting a global climate strike involving eight organizations on Sept. 20 at the Los Angeles City Hall.

Cho is taking the fight to Sacramento. "We are actively supporting a package of six endorsed California Bills," she said. "Our efforts include lobbying more than 38 legislative offices, writing letters of support, calling local representatives, and raising awareness among youth. Through these actions, we aim to influence policy and drive systemic change in environmental and social practices."

Youth For Earth was started by Cho when she was 15 years old. Her journey into environmental activism was a quest to reconcile between her parents' work in the fashion industry and her concern for the environment.

"When I was young, I couldn't help but notice the mountains of discarded fabric scraps and the vibrant colors of freshly dyed textiles," she explained. "These observations heightened my awareness of long-term environmental impacts. However, it was my parents' story and pursuit of the American Dream that truly shaped my perspective."

According to the Korean Apparel Manufacturers Association, Korean-owned firms represent at least one-third of all businesses in the Los Angeles garment industry, as it was a significant entry point for Korean immigrants in the 1990s.

"This industry not only provided crucial opportunities for my family but became a cornerstone of a community's livelihood," Cho added.

Her compassion has driven her commitment to finding solutions that respect both people and the planet, striving to balance the need for sustainable praces with the harsh realities faced by those in the [fast fashion] industry.

In the end, Cho's parents are her "biggest cheerleaders," and their support means the world to her.

"I am so grateful for their encouragement and eagerness to grow with me on this journey," Cho said. "Their boundless love and dedication have filled my heart with so much compassion, shaping my desire to make a difference."

Rather than focusing on criticism, Youth for Earth cultivates a nurturing community that listens and collaborates, turning their shared vision into action.

"We strive to inspire young people to understand and address environmental challenges, fostering a sense of responsibility and action for a sustainable future," said Cho.

She advises young people concerned about the environment to start educating themselves and researching local initiatives they can join, to form environmental clubs at school, or to join organizations in their community.

She also suggested that if young people want to get involved in local governance, they can call local representatives and learn more about their climate platform.

Through her involvement with Youth For Earth, Cho hopes to see a transformative shift in how young people and communities approach environmental issues.

"Ultimately, I hope the spread of awareness and actions taken today pave the way for a healthier and more resilient future for generations to come," Cho said.

Hahn has said that 44% of residents along the line live below the poverty level, and that construction and operation of the line will create between 37,000 and 46,000 jobs, and generate $5 billion per year in economic activity.

She has called the project a "game changer for some of the most transit dependent communities in Southern California."

"Most of this line will serve equity focus communities that have some of the worst air quality and suffer from some of the worst congestion anywhere in the entire state," Hahn said earlier this year. "They deserve high-quality transit, and the Southeast Gateway Line will finally deliver that."

The Federal Transit Administration is an agency within the U.S. Department of Transportation that provides financial and technical assistance to local public transit systems. The federal funding unlocked by the Record of Decision will go along with over $2 billion in local and state funds already committed to the project.

Products eligible for rebates include high-efficiency clothes washers, premium high-efficiency toilets, weather-based irrigation controllers, rotating sprinkler nozzles, rain barrels and cisterns and soil moisture sensor systems. Turf removal also qualifies for rebates.

Rebate amounts may vary and are based on the availability of funding. Visit socalwatersmart.com or call (888) 376-3314 for more information.

The MWD is a consortium of 26 cities and water districts that provides drinking water to nearly 19 million people in parts of Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Riverside, San Bernardino and Ventura counties.

Cerritos Water Quality Report Now Available

Cerritos' Annual Consumer Confidence (Water Quality) Report is available on the City's website at cerritos.gov/media/eivjeni3/water-quality-report.pdf. The report indicates that Cerritos water meets all primary state and federal standards.

State and federal laws require printed or electronic distribution of the water-quality information to everyone served by the City's water utility. The report describes the City's stringent water tests, which are conducted more frequently than required by the State Health Department. The Consumer Confidence Report provides detailed test results and explains the City's water supply, which flows to customers through a system of wells, reservoirs and pipes.

For more information about the Water Quality Report, call (562) 407-2674.

Hahn Celebrates Longer LA County Pool Season

EXTENDED HOURS: L.A. County Supervisor Janice Hahn at a L.A. County pool facility. While in past years, L.A. County pools closed in mid-August, this year pools will be open through Oct. 31. Hahn fought hard to extend the season.

LCCN Staff Report

Los Angeles County Supervisor Janice Hahn is encouraging residents to take advantage of LA County's extended pool season. While in past years, LA County pools closed in mid-August, this year pools will be open through Oct. 31.

"The warm weather isn't over, and neither is LA County's pool season," said Supervisor Janice Hahn who led the effort to keep pools open longer. "It never made sense that our pools used to close in mid-August, and I am grateful that with the support of my colleagues and the hard work of our Parks and Recreation Department, we are keeping our pools open."

To make this new swim season possible, LA County Parks and Recreation, which manages a total of 41 pools across 30 locations countywide, pushed to recruit more pool lifeguards than ever before and Hahn wore an LA County Lifeguard uniform to highlight their success.

Hahn led an effort to increase the starting pay for pool lifeguards by 20% to $23.86 hourly and the department worked to streamline the hiring process. This year, the department hired 356 new pool lifeguards and rehired 224 returning lifeguards -- totaling close to 600 pool lifeguards.

The County also invested in new lighting at pools to ensure swimmers can enjoy the pools even as the sun rises later and sets earlier in the fall. Activities available at LA County pools include low-cost swim team programs, senior aquatic exercise, and a first-ever Summer Parks After Dark pool events series, among others.

LAX Receives Final Cars For Automated People Mover Train

INNOVIA 300 APM car arrives at Los Angeles International Airport, bringing the total number on site to 44. The APM train is expected to begin 24/7 service for LAX guests and employees in January 2026, with trains arriving at stations every 2 minutes during peak hours, 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.

LCCN Staff Report

The final 4 Automated People Mover (APM) train cars arrived at Los Angeles International Airport (LAX), bringing the total number on site to 44.

The first cars arrived in summer 2022 and the remaining cars have since been steadily making the cross-country journey from the manufacturer in Pittsburgh, PA.

The new cars will join the rest of the fleet in testing on the APM's elevated guideway, as the design-build team at LAX Integrated Express Solutions (LINXS) continues progress toward the project completion date of December 8, 2025.

"The APM will enhance the travel experience at LAX and set a new standard for sustainable transportation. As we move this project forward, we remain dedicated to delivering a state-of-the-art solution that reflects our commitment to our passengers, community and environment," said John Ackerman, CEO of Los Angeles World Airports.

LAX will be the first U.S. airport to use the INNOVIA 300 APM cars, which include a variety of sustainable features such as fully recyclable state-of-the-art aluminum shells, a regenerative braking system, and a design to eliminate hazardous substances and toxic emissions.

The APM project is committed to environmental consciousness, with the train system already earning an Envision Gold Award for Sustainable Infrastructure from the Institute for Sustainable Infrastructure (ISI).

Additionally, the APM Maintenance and Storage Facility is designed to meet the LEED Gold Standard set by the U.S. Green Building Council, with almost half of the facility's power being produced from a photovoltaic generation system.

Last week, following approval by the Board of Airport Commissioners on July 18, the Los Angeles City Council approved an agreement that sets the construction completion date to December 8, 2025 and provides LINXS with an additional $550 million, primarily to cover added work previously completed and a longer than anticipated construction timeline.

"The arrival of all the APM vehicles in Los Angeles marks the beginning of the next phase of this enormous project," said Shawn West, LINXS Constructors Board Member. "Our focus now shifts from the construction of the APM's physical structures to an extensive testing process with each and every vehicle."

The APM train is expected to begin 24/7 service for LAX guests and employees in January 2026, with trains arriving at stations every 2 minutes during peak hours, 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Lift your spirits and improve your indoor environment by taking part in the indoor gardening movement. An apartment or home filled with tropical, succulent and flowering plants can provide beauty, extend your garden season, improve air quality and create a peaceful environment to de-stress.

Though some may find indoor gardening a bit intimidating, don't let past failures or the thought of tending living greenery stop you from enjoying the many benefits. Knowing some basics in care and making needed adjustments to the growing environment can turn past failures into success.

Water, humidity and light are key to growing healthy plants. When you match these to a plant's needs and the growing media, you're sure to experience success.

Use a container with drainage holes to avoid overwatering that can lead to root rot and plant death. It should be no more than an inch or two larger in diameter than the plant's root ball. Growing in a larger pot results in the soil staying too wet, increasing the chance of root rot.

Select a quality potting mix that holds moisture but drains well. Cacti and succulents prefer a fast-draining mix while tropicals and African violets prefer a mix that stays moist, not soggy, yet drains well.

Set your plant in a location that's free from drafts of hot and cold air, but in the preferred light conditions. An east- or west-facing window usually provides adequate light for most plants. Keep cacti, succulents and other plants requiring high light within two feet of an east- or west-facing window. Pothos, philodendron, Chinese evergreens and those that tolerate low light can be placed near a north-facing window or up to six feet back or off to the side of an east- or west-facing window. Shears, awnings and trees can impact the light reaching your plants. Adjust their location as needed.

Always water thoroughly and pour off the excess water that collects in the saucer. Allow the top few inches of soil to dry before watering drought tolerant plants like cactus. Water tropical and flowering plants that prefer moist conditions when the top few inches of soil are barely moist, like a sponge that has been wrung out.

Reduce maintenance and improve plant health with gravel trays. Fill a tray or saucer with pebbles. Allow excess water to collect in the tray. The pebbles keep the pot elevated above the water to avoid root rot. As the water evaporates it increases the humidity around the plant.

When pest problems occur, consider an organic approach safe for people, pets and plants. Manage fungus gnats, those tiny fruit fly like insects found flitting around the house, with a naturally occurring bacteria, Bacillus thuringiensis israelensis, found in Summit Mosquito Bits (SummitResponsibleSolutions.com). Just sprinkle on the soil surface and repeat as needed until these pests disappear.

Mites, aphids, scale and mealybugs can be controlled with an organic horticulture oil like Summit Year-Round Spray Oil. This product coats the pests and kills all stages from egg to adult. Repeat as needed to control any that were missed. Once the pests are managed, check the growing conditions and make needed adjustments to the growing environment.

The more plants you grow, the easier it becomes and soon enough you may find yourself immersed in a tropical or desert paradise inside the comfort of your own home.

cars, while 59 are freight. Train speeds can reach 79 mph for passenger trains and 64 mph for freight trains.

The rail corridor is owned and operated by BNSF Railway for freight, while Amtrak and Metrolink use the tracks for its passenger trains. The corridor is also a planned California High-Speed Rail route.

The actions by the SFS City Council followed a July 9, 2024, Notice of Funding Opportunity for the RCE Grant Program issued by the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA).

The RCE is the only competitive discretionary grant program aimed at improving railroad crossing safety and efficiency, investing in projects that construct grade separations, upgrade safety devices at crossings, or close at-grade crossings where roads and train tracks intersect.

Over $1.1 billion, funded through President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, will be available during the grant cycle.

The estimated cost of the scope of work is $3.3 million; the RCE grant program requires local matching funds in the amount of 20% of the total project cost, which is $660,000.

SFS is coordinating with BNSF to develop the grant application and request funding for the scope of work. To demonstrate their commitment to this critical project, BNSF has committed to funding 50% of the local match, $330,000.

In a letter to FRA Administrator, Amit Bose, BNSF General Director of French Thompson wrote, "BNSF Railway supports efforts by the City of Santa Fe Springs to secure federal discretionary funding under the 2023/2024 Railroad Crossing Elimination (RCE) for the Norwalk Boulevard and Los Nietos Road Grade Separation project.

CURRENT CROSSING: The Norwalk Boulevard and Los Nietos Road crossing (arrow). Nearly five trains per hour (109) cross daily; 50 of those are passenger railroad cars, while 59 are freight. The grade separation will improve safety, reduce emissions, enhance mobility and connectivity, and promote economic equity while improving efficiency for rail traffic.

"If awarded, the project will advance planning and design for a new grade-separated crossing that will eliminate two challenging at-grade crossings. BNSF would be willing to contribute $330,000 in private matching funds towards the $3,300,000 total project cost, with a request of $2,640,000.

"This project aims to improve safety, reduce emissions, enhance mobility and connectivity, and promote economic equity while improving efficiency for rail traffic. BNSF values our working relationship with the City of Santa Fe Springs and is prepared to work with all involved public agencies on further development of this project. BNSF appreciates your thorough review of this application and looks forward to continuing its relationship with the City of Santa Fe Springs through this important project."

The scope of work would include the development of alternative conceptual designs and community outreach. Once a preferred alternative is selected, the scope will include the development of engineering plans, specifications, and a construction estimate to the 35% level of completion.

The Grade Separation Project is very important to the city. Studies have shown that grade separations prevent collisions, reduce delays for both roadway users and rail, and enhance overall safety for the community.

In addition to the safety benefits, the projects will directly improve the quality of life for residents by enhancing connectivity and allowing residents and workers better access to jobs and opportunities.

Santa Fe Springs is a major job center, with tens of thousands of workers coming into the area daily, including from surrounding disadvantaged communities. Eliminating the crossing will allow for better and safer job access and improve freight movement efficiency via trucks on both roadways.

Surrounding communities will also see reduced greenhouse gas emissions when the project reduces engine idle time for vehicles stopped by numerous train crossings daily.

Santa Fe Springs Mayor Jay Sarno told Los Cerritos Community News, "The funding for the Norwalk Boulevard and Los Nietos Road Grade Separation Project marks a significant step forward in enhancing the safety and efficiency of our transportation network. By preventing collisions and reducing delays for roadway users and rail traffic, this project will improve traffic flow and ensure a safer environment for our entire community. We are proud to invest in infrastructure that protects our residents and supports our City's growth and development."

SFS City Manager René Bobadilla added, "Securing funding for the Norwalk Boulevard and Los Nietos Road Grade Separation Project is absolutely essential, given that this area ranks among the top two crossings with the highest number of safety incidents in our City. This project is not just about preventing accidents, it is about creating a safer, more connected community. By improving this critical infrastructure, we are fostering a more livable environment that will provide our residents and workers with better access to jobs, services, and opportunities, ultimately enhancing the quality of life in our City."

WEEK ONE FOOTBALL

Cerritos, behind Adhikari and defense again, routs Gahr to reclaim Silver Milk Barrel

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on X

The Cerritos High football team is singing the same song with the next verse the same as the first. In its season opener at Buena Park High, the Dons won 38-0 as senior running back Dikshanta Adhikari rushed for 109 yards and scored a pair of touchdowns while the Coyotes barely got over 60 yards in offense.

Last Friday night at Dr. Hanford Rants Stadium, in the latest chapter of the longstanding city and ABC Unified School District rivalry between Cerritos and Gahr High, it was nearly déjà vu for the black and gold for the second straight week. The Dons carved their way through a porous Gahr defense who was missing key components due to injuries. In the end, Cerritos posted its second best shutout in the rivalry, 38-0.

Cerritos blanked the Gladiators 49-0 in 1986 and in 2000, the Dons won 36-0. Last Friday's whitewash was the seventh in the rivalry, having done that in 1977, 1978, 1990 and 2004. The win also broke a 23-23 tie between the two in the rivalry as Cerritos has now claimed supremacy in the district for the 16th time, the second in the past three seasons.

"I thought it was going to be a lot worse," said Cerritos head coach Demel Franklin. "I'm a little disappointed. In the first half, it just took us a little while. We made some halftime adjustments, had some good energy and we did what we had to do."

"We didn't play very well," said Gahr head coach Greg Marshall. "Obviously, I think they're a little better than we are this year. We were missing some guys, and it really showed. We're just not deep enough to have a couple of guys out and... we have to try to figure out and put something together this week. I'm not making excuses, but it's just who we are [right now]."

Missing from Gahr's lineup was senior linebacker Isaiah Portillo, who separated his shoulder last week against Valley Christian High and will be on the sidelines at least for four weeks. Also absent because of an injury was senior running back and linebacker Dylan Richburg, who should be back in the next week or two, according to Marshall.

Surprising as it was, the game was scoreless in the opening quarter as Gahr had drives end in an interception by junior Labrenten Wilson and a punt while the Dons were stalled on downs at the Gahr 33-yard line. But on the second drive of the night, Cerritos drove to the Gahr 18-yard line before switching sides for the second quarter. Three plays into the new stanza, Adhikari scored from 11 yards out.

"Since last year, we've always had that chip on our shoulders," said Adhikari. "So, we just came and showed it today. We played hard, executed and the scoreboard says 37-0."

Gahr had 19 yards of offense on 10 plays in the first quarter and it didn't get much better in the second half as the Gladiators punted after a one-yard drive. With 61 yards to go before their second touchdown, the Dons chewed up nearly five minutes on a nine-play drive. The key highlights were a 14-yard rollout to the right side from junior quarterback Justin Sagun on third and one from the Cerritos 44-yard line, a nine-yard gain from Adhikari on third and four from the Gahr 36-yard line and his six-yard touchdown run with 4:11 left in the opening half.

CERRITOS HIGH senior running back Dikshanta Adhikari walks in from five yards out to score the third of his four touchdowns last Friday against Gahr High as the Dons romped to a 37-0 victory, reclaiming the coveted Silver Milk Barrel which goes to the champion of the ABC Unified School District.

The Gladiators (0-2) thought they had something going as senior Markell Slaughter gained 33 yards on three straight carries and later added a 10-yard gain. But a fumble was recovered in the end zone from senior defensive back Marnell Smith, and the Dons ran six plays before junior kicker Mateo Arancibia booted a 35-yard field goal as time expired, giving the hosts a 16-0 going to win. But going into this year, there's so many politics behind the scenes having to play this game.

It didn't get much better for the Gladiators in the third quarter as they couldn't capitalize on a fumble, gaining zero yards on their first possession of the half. Then starting at the Gahr 39-yard line, Adhikari got loose for a 44-yard run to move to the 17-yard line. After Gahr was offside, senior running back Josiah Ungos picked up seven yards before Adhikari made it 23-0 with a five-yard score.

Adhikari was on his way to another triple-digit yardage game with 73 yards on 11 carries while Sagun was staying hot, completing seven of 11 passes for 64 yards. Meanwhile, the defense was holding Gahr to 71 yards on 19 plays.

"I knew they were going to be tired from the start of the game," said Adhikari. "I knew this was going to be a shutdown game because they don't condition like us. They get tired. For us to keep running that ball [and] keep moving up the field, it's a great thing."

"I'm going to be honest with you," said Franklin of the rivalry. "Last year, I thought it was just a game. I didn't understand [the rivalry]. After the game, I was disappointed. I thought we were real."

"That kid coming into [the season], I knew it was going to be a battle for player of the year with him and [senior wide receiver] Ruben Castro," said Franklin of Adhikari. "They put Markell Slaughter on [Castro] all night and we were getting him in the slot, moving him inside out and just trying to get him the ball. That kid is a fighter. Ruben Castro, you haven't heard the last from him. He will be heard from. I assure you of that."

Ungos capped off the game's scoring with a one-yard run with 3:20 remaining. He would finish with 72 yards on 11 carries while Castro caught eight passes for 85 yards. Sagun and sophomore Alexander Laurin combined to complete 10 of 16 passes for 120 yards. Defensively, junior linebacker Tyler Ky led everyone with seven tackles while junior linebacker Bailey Crawford added five tackles.

"Our defense always comes and shows up," said Adhikari. "Since last year, they've been coming out and showing up. For them to go two games and shutting both of those games down... they're really talented."

"I think [the defense tonight] was better because I have to go back from last year," said Franklin. "I know what [Slaughter] and that offense did to us and for us to make the adjustments and shut it down, I'm happy. But it almost Wasco-like; milk the clock, take as long as you can. Except this time, we were able to help the defense and score some points."

Slaughter paced the Gladiators with 72 yards on 15 carries while Wallace added 42 yards on 11 carries. Slaughter and junior quarterback Roman Acosta combined to complete three passes for just five yards while senior safety Issac Gutierrez, senior linebacker Evan Lucena and junior safety Malachi Williams all had four tackles.

"I think they're similar," said Marshall. "We're just not as good as we were last year. But they're good on both sides of the ball."

This rivalry has been as close as it can be with Cerritos now having a 24-23 edge (the 1975 and 1981 results are unknown). But the Gladiators have dominated the series since 2005, winning all but two meetings. When Gahr stunned the Dons 27-20 last season, Cerritos dropped to 2-5 and it would be the last loss it would have until a 7-6 setback to Wasco High in the CIF State Division 6AA championship game.

"There was some talk of [revenge]; there definitely was," said Franklin. "We had a lot of kids disappointed. I felt bad for my seniors; I felt I let them down. That was 100 percent on me. So, there was definitely revenge [talk], and we were embarrassed last year."

"That kid, Markell Slaughter is absolutely incredible," he continued. "He destroyed us last year. So we made a concentrated effort to make sure to lock in on him. We had goals and we didn't hit them. We wanted to hold him to 50 yards, but 74, I'll take it."

Cerritos will visit Portola High on Friday while the Gladiators, who have scored six points in the last six quarters, will travel to Ocean View High, also on Friday.

"I think in the end, we'll be fine," said Marshall. "But we just have to learn a lot of lessons on the way. It's preseason right now for us because we're young and we have to put some pieces in place. I think we're going to have to learn to throw the football."

NEWS AND NOTES FROM PRESS ROW

Lack of depth shows in Glenn's first loss of season

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on X

When the John Glenn High football team defeated Bassett High in the season opener on Aug. 22, less than 20 players suited up. Last Thursday night, the Eagles hosted Rancho Dominguez Prep and again, they were thin in the personnel department, suiting up 20 players.

Despite an adequate opening quarter that saw Glenn hold a 2-0 advantage, the lack of depth caught up to Glenn throughout the game as the Lobos scored 24 points in the fourth quarter to post a 42-8 victory.

"I'm going to keep harping on this; we're a young team," said Glenn head coach Elijah Penny. "I feel like they did some positive things on offense. But again, getting more mature and finishing those drives will be helpful for us going down the stretch."

The Eagles began the game at their own 25-yard line and drove to the RDP 18-yard line before senior quarterback Raymond Acosta threw an interception to David Menjivar at the eight-yard line. But three plays later, sophomore Andre Romo sacked Davonte Foley in the end zone for a safety and a 2-0 lead with 3:56 left in the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter and still nursing the lead, Glenn moved to the RDP 15-yard line before junior running back Josiah Alcala was stopped on fourth and two. The Lobos turned that into a touchdown and from that point on, Glenn's offense flew south. A bad snap to Acosta on three straight plays led to a punt where Justin Rayes scored his second one-yard touchdown run of the game. The half ended with Acosta throwing his second interception and following another Rayes touchdown early in the third quarter, another Acosta pick slowed down any momentum the Eagles thought they might have had.

But the second best drive of the game would give Glenn its only touchdown as sophomore running back Sam Reeves scored from two yards out with 1:01 remaining in the third quarter. The drive was kept alive thanks to the help from sophomore wide receiver Alijah Hunter, who recovered a bad snap on an attempted punt and scrambled for 12 yards down the far sideline before he was pushed out of bounds and thrown down. The subsequent personal foul infraction gave the Eagles new life at the 36-yard line.

"I think he's a special kid," Penny said of Hunter. "I think he has all the talent in the world. I think once Alijah puts all that together; once he figures out who he is and how athletic he is, I believe he'll be an even greater player. It was good night for him tonight; it was good to see him have some spurts and show some glimpses of being great."

Following two straight incomplete passes, senior wide receiver Jacob Ramirez made a diving catch for a 31-yard play, and two plays later came the touchdown. After that, the Eagles were limited to 27 yards on a dozen plays in the final stanza while the Lobos scored three touchdowns on 10 offensive plays and added a safety within the first 6:48 of the fourth quarter.

Alcala led the Glenn rushing attack with 37 yards on 10 carries while Reeves added 27 yards on eight carries and had five tackles on defense. Ramirez caught three of Acosta's four completions for 78 yards.

"I think Rancho did a decent job of sending three guys [on defense]," said Penny. "They know our run concept pretty well...and they did a good job of pressuring our run game and managing the defensive side of the ball for themselves."

Within the last few weeks, the Glenn football program has gone through a season's worth of adversity stemming from comments made on social media and on the LCCN website at the coaches, the school, and the NLMUSD to the dwindling numbers of healthy and eligible players available for the first two games.

An alarming number of players after last year transferred out of the Glenn program to other high schools or quit the team altogether. The players spanned the position spectrum and weren't just frustrated freshmen or sophomores but top junior and senior players.

The biggest defection from last season's team, and probably the biggest loss in recent memory for the program, was senior running back Tuiono Tuifua, who transferred to La Mirada High. His absence will be greatly missed with the numbers he put together last season, logging 134 carries, 1,425 yards, 14 touchdowns, 26 receptions, 597 yards, and seven touchdowns.

Obviously, Tui was a great player," Penny, who was an NFL running back, told LCCN. "He's a good kid overall, and unfortunately, in this day and age, this transfer thing is like too big."

Other running backs who bolted were senior Dylan Arrington and junior running backs Daron Walker and Terry Henderson, who had 54 carries, 569 yards, five touchdowns, and seven receptions for 143 yards in 2023.

"Any kid can be replaced," said Penny. Losing those guys definitely took a big hit on our offense, and it took a big hit on our program in the direction we want to go."

The latest hit was a press release from Norwalk High principal Dr. David Olea regarding the cancellation of the Mayor's Cup contest between the two city schools, scheduled to have been played on Sept. 13. Despite everything that has been going on, Penny continues to keep a positive outlook on the season.

"At the end of the day, we're here to play football," he said. "So, the stuff on social media is not bothering us. Like I tell these boys, if it's outside these walls, it doesn't matter. It's just high school football. That's it; make it memorable for yourselves."

In other high school football action:

Bolsa Grande High (0-1) @ Artesia High (2-0)-The Pioneers blasted Mark Keppel High 54-6 last Thursday as senior quarterback Charlie Lopez completed three passes, but two went for touchdowns, and four different running backs scored a touchdown. The Artesia defense also scored twice on interception returns while limiting the Aztecs to 115 yards.

Bolsa Grande fell to Savanna High 34-28 on Aug. 23 as the Rebels scored 22 points in the second quarter and had a 28-14 lead heading into the fourth quarter. Artesia's pass defense will be put to the test as quarterback Tank Britton threw for 231 yards and a pair of touchdowns, but also had two interceptions. Rudy Carrillo and Jacob Ortiz each caught eight passes and were two of six players to have at least one catch. Seven ball carriers combined for 133 yards as the Matadors won last season's contest with the Pioneers 49-42.

Prediction: Artesia 38, Bolsa Grande 28

Cerritos High (2-0) @ Portola High (0-2)-It's hard to believe that Cerritos is playing at a better pace than last season when the Dons captured the CIF-Southern Section Division 12 title, but how can you argue against a team that has outscored its first two opponents by a combined score of 75-0? You can't, as senior running back Dikshanta Adhikari has rushed for 281 yards on 31 carries and scored half a dozen touchdowns while senior running back Josiah Ungos has added 152 yards on 25 carries with a pair of touchdowns. Defensively, the Dons have not even given up 200 yards on the season.

Portola's first two games have been on the road, getting shutout by Long Beach Wilson High 27-0 and coming up short against Irvine High 24-19 last Friday. The Bulldogs have put together 310 yards this season but have been held to no more than 80 yards rushing.

Portola, which opened in 2016, has won all four meetings with the Dons, including last season's 14-0 encounter.

Prediction: Cerritos 31, Portola 10
Gahr High (0-2) @ Ocean View High (0-2)-Someone will be going home happy around 9:30 Friday night because a first victory of the season will have occurred. Gahr was manhandled by Cerritos last Friday and it's lack of depth was evident. After getting 88 yards on 10 carries in the season opener against Valley Christian High, senior Markell Slaughter was held in check by Cerritos, getting 72 yards on 15 carries. Gahr's defense has allowed 86 points thus far.

Despite the injury issues the Gladiators have so far, they should have enough to get past an Ocean View squad that lost to Anaheim High 17-7 last week after a 49-6 setback to Fountain Valley High the previous week. The Seahawks have rushed for 159 yards and quarterback Isaac Young has completed 12 passes for 107 yards with four interceptions. Last season, Gahr defeated Ocean View 43-7.

"I haven't seen them [this season], and it doesn't matter," said Gahr head coach Greg Marshall. "We have to try and put something together. I think we're going to have to throw the football because we can't really pound it in there. But the quarterbacks have to practice."

Prediction: Gahr 28, Ocean View 14
Glenn (1-1) @ University High/Los Angeles (1-0)-For the second straight week, Glenn will step out of the CIF-SS to face a team from the CIF-Los Angeles City Section. University, from the Western League, defeated Fremont High 20-13 last Thursday in its season opener. The Wildcats built leads of 6-0 in the first quarter and 12-6 at the half before rallying from a point down with less than two minutes left in the game. Last season, the Eagles got past University 32-28 in the only other meeting between the schools. Glenn came back from a 14-0 first quarter deficit to score 16 points in the second quarter. After falling behind 22-16 in the third quarter and 28-24 in the final stanza, the Eagles scored the game winner with less than a minute remaining.

"I think University is a great team; that will be another good challenge for us," said Penny. "I think once we get our healthy bodies back, we'll be in better shape. After last year's game, [University] will want to get a [win] against us. We'll be ready to play; we'll come out ready to play."

Prediction: Glenn 21, University 14
Tesoro High (1-1) @ La Mirada

High (0-2)-For the first time since 2018, La Mirada played a non-scrimmage game at Goodman Stadium, but this time with a new field turf and other new features. Unfortunately, the Matadores were blown out by Western High 42-7 as the Pioneers scored 28 points in the second half to turn a one-possession game into a rout. It was the fourth straight game dating back to last season the Matadores have allowed at least 40 points and against Western, they yielded over 400 yards. The lone touchdown came from senior running back Josh Gonzalez, whose three-yard run gave La Mirada a brief 7-6 first quarter lead.

Tesoro is coming off a 42-28 loss to CIF-San Diego Section-based San Marcos High as the Titans were outgained 523-435. Tesoro had a 7-0 lead but trailed 21-14 at the half before tying the game twice before the Knights scored the last two touchdowns of the game.

Quarterback Cash O'Byrne passed for 257 yards and rushed for 126 yards on 14 carries with three touchdowns. In two games, he has thrown for 782 yards and five touchdowns and rushed for 154 yards.

This is the first time the teams have faced each other since 2014, a 26-23 La Mirada victory. In 2013, Tesoro won 43-14 and in 2008, the Titans were victorious, 57-21. Tesoro opened its school in 2001.

Prediction: Tesoro 31, La Mirada 21
GAME OF THE WEEK

Scripps Ranch High (2-0) @ Norwalk (2-0)-This was to have been Norwalk's bye week, but the cancellation of the Sept. 13 contest against Glenn forced the Lancers to find a replacement. As it turned out, Scripps Ranch out of the San Diego Section had an open week and decided to make the trek up north.

Norwalk had another easy time in taking care of Santa Fe High 48-13 last Friday and now has scored 97 points this season. Senior running back Ezra Mueller has rushed for 342 yards on 32 carries with four touchdowns while junior running backs Diego Cerritos and Derek Sandoval have combined for 304 yards and five scores. Senior quarterback Nicolas Barrera and junior Axel Busta-

State Hospital (MSH) is a state-run public hospital located in Norwalk specializing in psychiatric care.

The 826-bed hospital is operated by the Department of State Hospitals and has an open campus within a security perimeter on 162 acres of state property.

Currently, the state hospital admits patients in four different categories: incompetent to stand trial, offender with mental health disorder, not guilty by reason of insanity, and conservatorship Lanterman-Petris-Short Act.

With Supervisor Hahn's help, Los Angeles County is seeking to renovate the buildings to develop a new mental health community campus that will serve adults and transitional age youth with varying mental health and housing needs. In June, the State and County entered into an Exclusive Negotiating Agreement regarding the leasing of the seven buildings on the Metropolitan State Hospital Campus for this purpose.

The Los Angeles County Care Community will include a series of facilities offering diverse treatment and housing options for people with mental health challenges to be overseen by the LA County Department of Mental Health. These seven buildings were identified through a collaborative effort between the County and State. To create this Care Community, Los Angeles County will be using various grant programs and funding provided by the State as part of the State's response to the homelessness and mental health crisis.

SB 1336 and the mental health campus proposal comes in response to the growing concerns over the state's mental health and homelessness crises. It is clear the State and Los Angeles County need more facilities and housing options for individuals with mental health challenges. The Los Angeles County Care Community represents an innovative solution to a complex problem and is an example of the County and State collaborating to identify government property that can be converted into housing while providing access to essential services.

"Using state-owned underutilized land to house people with mental health needs is a win-win situation for both the individual and the communities in which they reside by getting them the support they need and off the street," said Archuleta.

mante have combined to complete four of seven passes for 69 yards and four touchdowns.

The Falcons defeated El Capitan High 20-7, limiting the Vaqueros to 116 yards total offense. Just three seasons ago, Scripps Ranch defeated Wilcox High 31-28 to claim the CIF Division 2A state championship. Scripps Ranch, which was established in 1993, is just to the east of Interstate 15 a few miles from Mira Mesa and Miramar College.

Prediction: Norwalk 42, Scripps Ranch 21

Baldwin Park High (0-2) @ Valley Christian (2-0)-After two games, the experience of a 3-7 season in 2023 is paying off for the Defenders, who raced to a 35-6 halftime lead against Calvary Chapel Santa Ana High last Saturday and cruised to a 42-25 win that wasn't as close as the score indicates. V.C. piled up 423 yards and got another strong performance from senior quarterback Austin Abrahams. The Defenders have scored 91 points in two games this season as they get to play their first game on their new home field turf surface.

Baldwin Park lost to Covina High 42-7 last Friday, falling behind 21-7 after the opening quarter. Mark Carbajal was the lone highlight for the Braves, rushing for 156 yards on 18 carries while Elvis Doaz tossed a 59-yard touchdown pass to Tremell Horn. This is the first meeting between the two in at least over 25 years.

Prediction: V.C. 35, Baldwin Park 7
Last week's predictions: 4-2
Season to date: 9-3

The most improved team so far is Glenn, which is 6-2 as it will host Duarte High today before going to Rancho Alamitos High on Tuesday, then entertain Magnolia High on Wednesday while La Mirada saw its four-match winning streak end this past Tuesday as Sonora High swept the Matadores 25-14, 25-13, 25-17. WONDERWORD

By DAVID OUELLET

HOW TO PLAY: The words are found in all directions - vertically, horizontally, diagonally, backward. Circle each letter of a word found and strike it off the list. The letters are often used more than once so do not cross them out. It is best to find the big words first. When you find all the words listed in the clues you'll have a number of letters left over that spell out the WONDERWORD.
